Fifth Ward Republicans Hold an Important Meeting Thursday Night.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS IN ATTENDANCE

Winging Speeches Upholding the Principles of the Republican Party—Material Evidence of Commercial Prosperity.

Fifth Ward Republicans held an enthusiastic meeting in their hall at Sixteenth and Corby streets Thursday night. Early in the evening there was a crowd in waiting...

One of the best speeches of the evening was made by J. C. Wharton, who talked in a most interesting manner and at great length on current issues of the campaign...

Judge Slabaugh made one of his characteristic speeches. He was both entertaining and instructive. He quoted facts and figures with a readiness that disclosed thorough knowledge of his subject...

D. M. Vinsonhall, candidate for county judge, made a plain republican talk that carried weight with it. He spoke a word for all the candidates and assured the voters that if he is elected he will fill the office of county judge to the very best of his ability.

E. J. Cornish, who has made several other good speeches in this campaign, made a sound and efficient talk in favor of unionism. "We must all pull together," was the substance of his remarks.

George McBride, Henry Ostrom and others made short talks in which they urged party loyalty and industry—industry in attending to the increasing amount of business in commercial circles, and like industry in getting to the polls and putting in a vote...

The Fifth ward has many speakers among the laity and several of them had an impromptu utterance in favor of the party that has brought prosperity in the place of panic.

PATRIOTIC LEAGUERS CONFERENCE

Largely Attended Meeting of the League Approves a Number of Stinging Speeches.

There was a largely attended meeting of the Patriotic League Thursday night in the large hall on the third floor of the Millard. President Hugh Myers first invited all Republicans present to attend the meeting...

Lee Estelle was in the hall and when called upon advised the meeting that he had been around over the district considerably and in Douglas, Butte and Washington counties he had found the conditions great deal better than they had been for Republicans for years.

The humblest is the peer of the highest. Mr. Greene declared himself an expansionist. He believed that the seventy-five millions of American should have something to say about what becomes of the world and should not leave it all to Russia.

Captain Palmer directed attention to the fact that an American firm of contractors has recently been awarded the contract for the erection of a great steel bridge in Egypt and that an American manufacturing firm has contracted to furnish 180,000 tons of steel rails for a European railway and he wanted to know how this could continue if the big combinations of capital were to be suppressed.

Mr. Greene responded that they will not be suppressed, but that the objectionable methods of their present organization will correct themselves. Until recently the industry of this country could not compete with the aggregated capital of Europe...

ROOSEVELT MAY YET COME

Executive Committee of the Exposition Has Received Such Assurances.

CODY WILL BE HERE WITH GENERAL MILLS

Soldiers Are Promised for an Escort—Tickets for Omaha Day Are Selling Rapidly—Tomorrow is Free Children's Day.

The executive committee of the Exposition has received word from Mark Hanna that Governor Roosevelt of New York will be in the state for one day at least before election, and it is thought that the time will be so arranged that he will be in Omaha before the closing reception and banquet.

General Henry was made a brigadier general last year and served during the Spanish war, first in southern camps and later in Porto Rico, where he was accorded the distinction of being chosen as governor in general election. Recently he has been on sick leave.

General Henry comes from good military stock. He was born at Fort Smith, Indian Territory, March 9, 1852, the son of Major William Seaton Henry, Third United States Infantry, and grandson of Daniel D. Tomkins, twice governor of New York and vice president of the United States; also grandson of Smith Thompson, who was secretary of the navy and judge of the supreme court. He was appointed as a cadet-at-large at the United States military academy, from which he graduated in the class of 1871.

Crowds at the Concert.

Another grand concert in the International Musical Festival week was given Thursday night by Belletted's band with flattering results. The concert was represented by Messrs. Haydn, Handel and Mozart and some of the greatest works of the musicians were given. Mr. Belletted received a perfect ovation personally as he stepped upon the platform and the applause was so great after the concert that the band was given every selection except the last, when Mr. Belletted absolutely refused to accede to the demands, as the members of the band were simply fagged out after the arduous labors of so fatiguing a program.

Exposition Notes.

Saturday will be the last children's day of the exposition and school children under 12 years of age will be admitted free of charge. This will give children opportunity to view the many educational exhibits on the last time and there is indication that the crowds will be crowded with little folks all day long.

A display of sugar beets has just been placed in the horticultural exhibit of agricultural products that is attracting much attention. One beet, as analyzed by W. Thibault, is worth $100. The United States experiment station in Lincoln, contains 18-20 per cent of sugar and has been analyzed by the same chemist on the average of 15 per cent.

The Midway has begun to take on an autumnal appearance and reminds one forcibly of a tree with a good share of the leaves removed, for here and there concessions have piled up stumps and more are preparing to depart. There will be several places left, though, until the end, and there is promise that the great show never seen as the big show comes to an end on Halloween.

The committee from the directory and the commercial club report that tickets for Omaha day are selling very rapidly and about $200 in the light of this source with much of the territory to be covered yet. Promoter Mr. Miller has a little while Wednesday and soon had $100 pledged, with promises of much more. Several other sources are being tapped and have done as well and the outlook is very encouraging.

A new consignment of grape fruit and oranges has been added to the Florida exhibit in the Colonial building, and it is a very fine one. A goodly number of the fruit looks in its fresh state. Mr. Frederick Heffer, manager of the display, has had some oranges from the Florida bacco he has had on show and they are said to be of a fine quality. The oranges at the present time being visited by large numbers of high school students, who are able to learn a great deal concerning the geography and the products of the region by spending a short time there.

AMUSEMENTS.

Dug out of the archives of antiquity, awakened from their slumber by the electric light and with new life injected into it, "Skipped by the Light of the Moon," one of the earlier day farce comedy successes, amused a good sized audience at Boyd's theater Thursday night, where it opened a half week's engagement. Well known old piece, weathering the storm for over ten years before being shelved, which is something unusual for a play of this kind. Drawing powers to it, Fowler & Warrington have resurrected it. Unlike many comedies of its class, it is not a mere collection of questionable jokes, but possesses a fairly well-defined plot, the interest of which is never

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

Yesterday's registration amounted to 1,101, which is equal to former first days. It was not, however, as many as was expected by either the republican or democratic managers. By party affiliation the registration shows 414 republican voters and 410 democratic voters, with the balance scattered between independents and populists. The number who declared themselves independent was surprisingly large, but it is known that quite a proportion of these independents have a leaning toward republicanism. Several prominent democrats refused to give in to the registrars their political affiliations and consequently they were marked down as having no party. These no party men are expected to vote a split ticket, so that neither side can count their votes with any surety.

HENRY ASSIGNED TO OMAHA

Former Commander in Porto Rico Comes to Department of Missouri.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—By direction of the president General Guy V. Henry, now on waiting orders in New York City, has been assigned to the command of the Department of Missouri, with headquarters at Omaha, Neb.

Sketch of New Commander.

General Henry was made a brigadier general last year and served during the Spanish war, first in southern camps and later in Porto Rico, where he was accorded the distinction of being chosen as governor in general election. Recently he has been on sick leave.

President Millard Resigns.

J. H. Millard has resigned as president of the South Omaha National bank and yesterday the directors of the institution met to take some action on the resignation. Mr. Millard attended a meeting of embalmers and for this reason declined to hand in his resignation to the directors of the bank. At yesterday's meeting the stock in the bank held by Mr. Millard was purchased by Guy C. Barton and E. W. Nash and Mr. Nash was elected a member of the directory to succeed Mr. Millard. E. A. Gahway of the Cudahy Packing company, vice president of the bank and the directors decided to postpone the election of officers until the regular meeting. This leaves Mr. Cudahy as acting president. According to statements made at yesterday's meeting it appears that the deposits of the bank have nearly doubled within the last six months. It is understood on the street that the Millard stock brought a good price. No changes in the personnel of the bank will be made until the annual meeting of the directors, when it is expected that a new president will be elected.

Funeral of Mrs. Thompson.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. C. H. Thompson were held at the family residence, Twenty-fourth and J streets, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Wheeler, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated and the service was a beautiful burial service of the Presbyterian church. At the conclusion of the reading, Dr. Wheeler spoke of the life of the deceased and by his tender remarks brought tears to the eyes of all. At the conclusion of the services the remains were forwarded to the interment. Mr. Thompson and his daughters have the sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends in their bereavement.

Repairs on Q Street Viaduct.

The Q street viaduct is being replanked and consequently the street cars have stopped running out of street. Just now the stub car stops at Twenty-seventh instead of going on to Thirty-third. When the planks on the bridge are all relaid it is expected that the rails will be laid and that the ordinary traffic on the line will be resumed. It will possibly be a week before the railroads will be through with the floor of the bridge, and during this time all passengers who ordinarily take the stub line will be compelled to walk the greater part of the distance to Twenty-fourth street.

Track Laying Commences.

Track laying at the west end of Armour's plant commenced yesterday afternoon. About 300 tons of rails are to be laid. The grading for these railroad yards has not been completed, but enough has been done to warrant the commencement of track laying. Before the rails are laid the retaining wall, but this will not be started until the last load of dirt is taken. When completed, these yards will hold a large number of cars and will relieve the pressure in the lower yards a great deal.

Death of Mrs. C. H. Thompson.

Mrs. C. H. Thompson died at her home, Twenty-fourth and J streets, at an early hour yesterday, after an illness lasting about a week. Rev. Dr. Wheeler held services at her home at 10 o'clock in the afternoon. The remains were forwarded to Lemars, Ia., for interment. Mrs. Thompson leaves a husband and two children.

Big Republican Rally Tonight.

A big republican rally will be held at Koutsky's hall tonight. Two excellent speakers have promised to be present and quite a number if not all of the candidates will be on hand. The local committee has provided a band to furnish music, and this band will parade the downtown streets.

All members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen are requested to meet tonight at Workman hall, Twenty-sixth and N streets, to jollify over the results of the prize drill at the exposition grounds a few days ago. One of the South Omaha teams, No. 227, carried away second prize, and the members feel jubilant over the result. It is hoped that all members of the order will be present in order to participate in the festivities.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Tom Denbigh was arraigned in the county court Thursday afternoon on the charge of running a gambling game commonly known as "polky." The case was opened only a little while ago and when adjournment was taken until Monday. Deputy State Labor Commissioner Kent is in town personally to look after the enforcement of the fire escape law. He says that he has completed his inspection and is now compelling parties having defective escapes, or none at all, where escapes are required under the law, to put them up. The Advisory Board has accepted the bid of E. N. Daharsh to furnish meals to city prisoners at 35 cents per meal. A big acceptances could not be furnished at that price or at the price paid the year before, which was 35 cents.
